His Joyous Discovery.

(From Judge.) Once upon a time there was a man who wandered away from home because he was not properly appreciated in his own town.

In his journeys he rambled far, and because he was a fool he experienced the long which often attends fools, and finally came upon a country where because the explorers had never found it all his ancient and diminished jokes were brand-new to the inhabitants.

There, surrounded by audiences of people who had never heard even the oldest and lamest of whiz-bangs, he told his tales to thunder of applause. He speedily became the most popular man in that queer land, and presently wedded the beautiful princess who had not only not never heard anything worth hearing but also never seen anything worth looking at. He dwelt there today, thoroughly amazened and enjoying all the emoluments that come to him who achieves success at which he is truly worthy.

His story is here given, in the hope that it may encourage others of his sort to migrate instead of going on the Chautauqua platform.

MAJOR BOATRIGHT APPENDICITIS VICTIM

Undergoes Surgical Operation
Today; Condition Reported
as Satisfactory as Could be Expected Under Circumstances.

David H. Boatright, mayor of Albuquerque, was operated upon for appendicitis at St. Joseph's hospital this morning. Reports from the hospital were to the effect that the surgeon believed the operation entirely successful and that his condition was as satisfactory as could be expected under the circumstances.

City Clerk Tom Hughes assumed charge of affairs in the mayor's office this morning, when he learned that the mayor had gone to the hospital for an operation.

Attending surgeons believe that the mayor will be out of the hospital in nine or ten days provided complications do not occur.

It is believed that the mayor has been suffering from appendicitis for some time, without his knowledge. He had experienced various attacks of what he believed to be stomach trouble. The latest attack was Saturday afternoon in the city building. This caused the mayor to take to bed Saturday night and Sunday. A physician called early Sunday morning, diagnosed the attack as an attack of appendicitis and advised an operation.

The mayor was placed on the operating table in St. Joseph's shortly before 11 o'clock. The patient was in fair show recovering from the effects of the anesthetic, but rallied well. At 2 o'clock this afternoon the operating surgeon, in reply to a query, said that the mayor's condition

was satisfactory and that the operation had been entirely successful.

Ecstasy spreads rapidly. It almost drives you mad. For quick relief,

Doctor's Ointment is well recommended. See at all stores.
